Ida Lupino's characterization in They Drive By Night tops her performance in The Light That Comes and serves notice that she is a dramatic actress of the first rank. The star has profited greatly from forgetting all about glamour. She has let her hair go brown, allowed her eyebrows to grow out and almost abandoned makeup.

A far cry, these recent performances, from the Ida Lupino who was brought to Hollywood as a candidate for the title role in Alice in Wonderland.

Hollywood hopes it isn't true. The word reaches here that Guy Middleton, one of the professors in Goodbye, Mr. Chips, was killed in the battle of Flanders.

Ironically, Middleton also played a part in French Without Tears.

Playing bums in a night club scene for Before I Die will be a distinguished gentleman of the cinema—Ernest Lubitsch, Lloyd Carey, Walter Wanger and Hawks. At least they have persuaded Ben Hecht to do the chore.

The time for shooting Before I Die was set, but a minute plans had to be made.

Ottawa, July 19. (C business with prorogation commons yesterday which were put through quickly at first reading.

(In the senate Government Dandurand said he thought the government might prorogue August perhaps a little later).

For more than a week the resolutions have been considered in the house in committee almost without little progress achieved. Yesterday afternoon the committee quickly ran through remaining resolutions under the Special Revenue act, the Excise act and customs tariff, the latter covering 17 items in the tariff schedule.

Taxes on tobacco and its products, tires and tubes, aerating materials for soft drinks and malt syrups were covered in the resolutions which went through with little discussion.

During the evening sitting the house concerned itself with agriculture estimates. For the most part the debate centred around opposition demands for restriction of import of vegetable oils. A few items of the departmental estimates were passed.

Further debate on the budgetary taxes may arise when the resolutions are based upon these resolutions are for second reading, particularly the war exchange tax which brought the widest criticism because of its possible effect on the agricultural industry through the likelihood of rising prices for implements and production.

A feature of the discussion was by Fred G. Hobson (St. John's), on "The Parliament's of

Famine in France Thought Likely

New York, July 19. (AP) — The British Broadcasting corporation, in a report heard here today by National Broadcasting corporation, said the French newspaper, Le Temps, has warned of the likelihood of a famine because France now is forced to live on her reserve food supplies.

The B.B.C. reported Le Temps had issued a protest against German requisitioning of French supplies.

Low Voices Charge

Ottawa, July 19. (CP)—Hon. Solon Low, provincial treasurer of Alberta, threw the commons banking and commerce committee into a momentary tumult today when he claimed the federal treasury had refused loans to his province while aiding Saskatchewan, and had thus contributed to Alberta's default.

This was interpreted by several members as a charge of discrimination by the federal government, which Hughes Cleaver (Lib. Halton) declared "I do not believe for one minute."

Mr. Low said he was not charging discrimination but that the Bank of Canada had refused Alberta, while at the same time, under similar circumstances, had helped Saskatchewan meet a bond maturity.

Mr. Cleaver said the federal government had agreed to help all provinces if they would enter into a loan council scheme. Saskatchewan agreed but, he said, Alberta had elected to default.

The committee adjourned at noon to meet again probably next Tuesday afternoon.

The provincial treasurer said that whatever government took office in Alberta in 1935, "regardless of its political stripe," would have had to take the same action as that taken by the Social Credit government.

Why $25 Monthly

"If the province was so overloaded with debt before you took office how do you reconcile that with the Social Credit party's promise to pay every person $25 a month?" asked J J. Kinley (Lib. Queens-Lunenburg).

"There was no such promise made," Mr. Low replied.

"Then we in the east were very poorly informed," Mr. Kinley said.

Discussing the several defaults on bond maturities starting with 1936, Mr. Low said the province had sought loans from Canada.

The Danubian wheat yield is off a third, is not expected to exceed 3,540,000 tons, and Adolf Hitler's Reich will eat almost all of it. Danubia can starve in the shadow of her own bursting grain elevator or beg from her knees for a loaf of her own bread.

Wheels Did Rest

What sick nature hadn't done to Europe's grain and cattle, fruits and hogs, iron heels and steel wheels did. Armies leave nothing in their wakes except people and poverty. What marching men don't devour as they go, they destroy. Even the deep-delving Hoover record cannot estimate how many food animals died in Hitler's fire. And nobody knows how many hundred thousands of tons of grain and meat were destroyed by terrified farmers before they fled with their soldiers before the German wrath.

The real Indians explained that they wanted the paint for use at their snake dance ceremonials, Aug.
4. The Hollywood studio, it seemed,
turned out more realistic war paint than the Indians could mix from native pigments.

Two of Hollywood's top money-makers were released today from their contracts with Warner Brothers' studio. They were Paul Muni and Director William Dieterle.
The studio said the cancellations were by mutual consent after disagreements over salaries.

Major studios revealed today that they were rewriting scrips to eliminate numerous male roles because of a shortage of leading men.
Officials said they were searching the ranks of feature and bit players for possible material to build into ranking, money-making stars. They did not explain the sudden dearth of top-rank artists with box office
